

Carroll Community College Theatre Program

2025 - 2026 SEASON

September 2025

SCHOOL INVADERS

by John Cieslinski and
Maureen Cieslinski
Directed by Connor Kertiss

Sept. 6 & 7 @ 2 p.m.

Rated: G | Tickets are FREE!

Flighty third-grade student, Angelina Dorf, encounters space people who've accidentally landed in the schoolyard. They are being pursued by evil beings and Angelina neglects her schoolwork to help them escape. Several interplanetary characters also come to the school to help (or create more mysterious happenings) throughout the day.

November 2025

TARTUFFE

by Molière, adapted by Constance Congdon from a literal prose translation by Virginia Scott
Directed by Emily Hall

Nov. 13 – 15 @ 7:30 p.m.

Nov. 16 @ 2 p.m.

Rated: PG-13 | Tickets $10 – $15

Constance Congdon's witty verse adaptation of Molière's timeless classic, in which a conman infiltrates the household of a gullible man and his exasperated family. When the religious hypocrite Tartuffe is taken into their home, he is promised Orgon's daughter's hand in marriage (even as he secretly attempts to seduce Orgon's wife, Elmire). Everyone else in the family sees through Tartuffe's hypocrisies. Will his real intentions be exposed? Will the family be saved from eviction? Will Orgon be thrown into prison? Come along for the hilarious romp to find out!

April 2026

TWO NIGHTS (AND AN AFTERNOON) OF STAGED READINGS

Directed by Jane Frazier Kennedy

April 24 – 25 @ 7:30 p.m.

April 26 @ 2 p.m.

Rated: TBD (February 2026)
Tickets $5

What's a Staged Reading? Expect actors to "be on book" (usually sitting, with scripts on music stands) with possible movement and perhaps a few prop and costume pieces. Please note: these are not fully produced plays! Each performance will most likely include 3 – 5 short plays with time directly following each play for audience feedback and discussion. Tickets: $5 (for the whole evening or afternoon of plays)
